New National Safety Standards for Corded Window Coverings December 15, 2018

In compliance with the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission's (CPSC) new national safety standards for window coverings, as of December 15, 2018, corded window coverings will only be available on custom-order products, although the revised standard imposes new restrictions on the custom-order products. The restrictions include requiring operating cords to have a default length of 40 percent of the blind height and a default to a tilt wand instead of a tilt cord.

Homeowner/customer acknowledges he/she has been offered a choice between window blinds with and without cord controls.

If window blinds with cord controls are installed, homeowner/customer hereby waives all claims against builder, manufacturer, and installer and their employees and subcontractors and releases them from all liability for any and all damages arising out of the use or misuse of window blinds with cord controls.

I have read and decline the above product safety warnings regarding corded window coverings.
